FORESTERS END DISTRICT MEET

Key Personnel Of Five Southeastern Counties Met In Whiteville

WHITEVILLE, Aug. 27—County Wardens, Association Rangers and other key personnel of the North Carolina Forest Service from Columbus, Brunswick, Bladen, Pender and Duplin Counties concluded a two-day district conference here today.

Presiding over the conference was W. L. Brewer, Jr., District Forester in charge of District Eight, whose office is located in the Armory Building here. Lecture sessions were conducted in the Vocational Agriculture Building and demonstrations at the Forest Service Warehouse on the Chadbourn road.

Discussions the Monday session were confined to the organizations public relations and law enforcement program. Lee J. Greer, local attorney and former Judge of Recorder's Court was heard in a timely and very informative lecture on preparation of State's evidence in court. Also lecturing on allied subjects were J. R. Spratt, Raleigh, Asst. State Forester in charge of Fire Control, M. M. Carstarphen, Raleigh, Ranger in charge of Law Enforcement and Wm. S. Edmunds, district Ranger of the local office.

Also featured on the program was a trip through the Riegel Forest near Bolton where the results of the intensified fire control program sponsored jointly by the Riegle Paper Corp, and the Forest Service were noted.

On Tuesday the group inspected the Columbus County Headquarters located at Chadbourn Tower as the guests of County Warden B. F. Batten, and attended a demonstration at Waccamow Tower of equipment to be used in the Forest Services' fire line program this fall.

CAROLINA FARMERS ADVISED TO HOLD ALL HOGS, CATTLE

CHARLOTTE, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Carolina farmers and livestock shippers were advised Tuesday by Harvey Morris of Charlotte, operator of a large livestock auction, to hold their cattle and hogs, because he said he expects a meat famine in this area next winter, with prices then higher than the record highs now prevailing.

"I am advising my customers to hold their livestock, because it appears that a severe shortage is inevitable next winter," he said.

"Cattle now being sold here ordinarily would not come into the market until late in October," he continued. "The marketing is being done now, however, because the growers and shippers want to take advantage of the fact that OPA ceilings are not in effect.

DR. HOLDEN PLANS NEW SHRIMP DOCK

Beach Resident Seeks Permit To Dredge Basin For Facility

New docking facilities for shrimp boats operating from the vicinity of Holden's Beach and other craft plying the Inland waterway may be available soon if the plans of Dr. S. E. Holden are realized, it was learned here yesterday.

Dr. Holden has applied to the local U. S. Engineers office for permit to dredge a docking basin in the waterway near Holden's Beach, and if no objections to the project are raised before the August 29 deadline the dredging work will be started as planned, a spokesman of the engineers' office said yesterday.

At the present time there is no yacht basin, where craft can dock for re-fueling and servicing, between Georgetown and Southport.

In the same instance the shrimp fleet operating from the vicinity of the beach is forced to dock its craft in the Inland waterway creating a traffic hazard.

Private Job

The dredging process, if the permit is granted, will be a private undertaking, the spokesman said.

It was also learned from the office of the U. S. Engineer that a survey has been made of the Inland waterway skirting the northern extension of Holden's Beach.

The survey was made to ascertain if the waterway was filling in near the inlet, at the north extremity of the beach, used by craft going to the ocean from the channel.

Asked if dredging operations were planned in Masonboro inlet, southern extension Wrightsville Beach, the spokesman said "No and if it were dredged it would fill in immediately."

Only One Way

There is only one way to keep the inlet free of filling in, the spokesman pointed out.

He continued by saying the inlet should be dredged to a depth of 25 feet and 500 feet wide so the silt and debris would wash back into the ocean on the change of tide.

New Officers Named

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 — (AP) — President Truman has approved a list of 900 new officers to fill vacancies in the regular army, the War department announced Tuesday.

The group will bring the number of regular army officials to 25,000 nearly double the prewar total. Congress has authorized an additional 25,000 not yet named.

Vacancies filled by Tuesday's list resulted from failure of some on a list nominated in June to accept commissions, recent losses through retirement and other causes.

Balls Of Fire With Tails May Play Around For Days

If any of you happen to observe any more of those "balls of fire with tails" like the ones which flashed over the city on Friday and Monday nights, don't be alarmed into thinking they might be "enemy ghost rockets" and start rehabilitating your World War II bomb shelters.

According to Paul Hess, chief of the local U. S. weather bureau and the man who really knows about such things, those fireballs with or without tails (but usually with) are most probably meteorites with with the sissy names of Perseids.

The Perseids habitually bombard the northern hemisphere during August, Hess said yesterday as he consulted his "New Astronomy" textbook written by Prof. David P. Todd.

The Perseids' pyrotechnical peak occurs about August 10, but the whole show, beginning about August 1, plays for abot 35 days. So there's still a good opportunity for all of you to get a box seat on your porch or roof and sit in on the last act.

The Perseids get their sissy name from the northern constellation, Perseus, from which direction they appear to emanate.

According to Professor Todd's book, "No August ever fails of a light sprinkle, although the short nights in our hemisphere often interfere with the display."

So that's that, and you can move all that junk back down from the attic and stow it again in your bomb-shelter, because your attic will probably make the best box seat of all.

It will be the first ship from the land-locked European country ever to dock in Charleston.

If a sink becomes stopped up put a handful of soda down the drain, and then pour in a half glassful of vinegar.
